1. General Questions
This section provides information on general queries in relation to working in Ireland.

1.1 Who needs an employment permit to work in Ireland?
The employment of all non-EEA (see section 1.4) nationals in the State is governed by the Employment Permits Acts 2003 – 2014. Under this legislation in order to work in the State all non-EEA nationals require a valid employment permit or relevant immigration permission from the Minister for Justice and Equality which allows them to reside and work in the State without the requirement for an employment permit. The Irish State’s general policy is to promote the sourcing of labour and skills needs from within the workforce of the European Union and other EEA states. However, where specific skills prove difficult to source within the EEA, an employment permit may be sought in respect of a non-EEA national who possess those skills.

All applications are processed in line with the Employment Permits Acts and are dependent on a job offer from an employer who is based in Ireland and who is registered with the Office of the Revenue Commissioners. It should be noted that the State’s employment permit system is ordered by the use of occupation lists which determine which employments are highly demanded and which are ineligible for consideration for employment permits at a point in time. These lists are reviewed on a bi-annual basis.

Full information on the current eligibility criteria in relation to employment permits can be found on the Department’s website at this link: Eligibility

1.2 Will British citizens require an employment permit to work in Ireland following Brexit?

Under the Common Travel Area (CTA), Irish and British citizens move freely and reside in either jurisdiction and enjoy associated rights and entitlements including access to employment, healthcare, education, social benefits, and the right to vote in certain elections.

This means that British citizens are able to work in Ireland without an employment permit. The Irish Government will continue to provide information to citizens. For further information, please go to the Department of Foreign Affairs & Trade website – www.dfa.ie
1.3 If I am using a trading name different to my Company Name, do I need to register my trading name with Companies Registration Office?

If your trading name is different to the Registered Company Name/Sole Trader, you must register this trading name as a Business Name with the Companies Registration Office (CRO). Registration of a Business Name is obligatory if any Individual, Partnership or Body Corporate is trading under a name other than their own true name. When completing an employment permit application, you must provide the Employer Registered Number, Company Name Registered Number and Business Name Registered Number.

1.4 Should the employers registered name or business name appear on the permit?

If you are trading under a name which differs from the Registered Company Name/Sole Trader Name, this name should be included on the Employment Permit.

1.5 Can an International Protection (IP) applicant work in Ireland?

Yes. Since 2nd July 2018, International Protection applicants can apply for a permission to access the labour market in a scheme administered by the Department of Justice and Equality. Further details, including how to apply, are available from the Department of Justice and Equality HERE.

1.6 How can I apply for an employment permit?

Applications for employment permits can be made online using our Employment Permits Online System (EPOS) at EPOS.

An application for any employment permit must be received at least 12 weeks before the proposed employment start date.

EPOS was designed to assist applicants through the process and provides form validation and intuitive help text. There is also a User Manual available in the Footer Information on the online system which describes the online process in detail and guides applicants through the online process.

Before making an application online we would advise applicants to familiarise themselves with the current employment permit types and eligibility criteria which are available on our website.
1.7 What nationalities don’t require employment permits?

Nationals of any country which is a member of the EEA do not require an employment permit in order to work in the State. The EEA is an area of free trade and free movement of peoples comprising the member states of the European Union, in addition to: Norway, Iceland and Liechtenstein.

In addition to this, Swiss Nationals also don’t require employment permits in accordance with the terms of the European Communities and Swiss Confederation Act, 2001. This Act came into operation on 1 June 2002 and enables the free movement of workers between Switzerland and Ireland, without the need for employment Permits.

The member states of the European Union are:
Austria, Belgium, Bulgaria, Croatia, Denmark, Finland, France, Germany, Greece, Ireland, Italy, Luxembourg, The Netherlands, Portugal, Spain, Sweden, United Kingdom, Cyprus, Czech Republic, Estonia, Hungary, Latvia, Lithuania, Malta, Poland, Slovakia, Slovenia and Romania.

1.8 Do all non-EEA nationals require employment permits?

The following non-EEA nationals do not require an employment permit:

- Van der Elst Case - The European Court of Justice delivered a judgement on the Van der Elst Case (Freedom to Provide Services) on 9 August 1994. The Court ruled that in the case of non-EEA workers legally employed in one Member State who are temporarily sent on a contract to another Member State, the employer does not need to apply for employment permits in respect of the non-nationals for the period of contract.

A Non-EEA national who has been granted permission to remain in the State by the Department of Justice and Equality on one of the following grounds:

- Permission to remain as spouse or a dependant of an Irish/EEA national and who is the holder of a Stamp 4;
- Permission to remain as the parent of an Irish citizen and who is the holder of a Stamp 4;
- Temporary leave to remain in the State on humanitarian grounds, having been in the Asylum process and who is the holder of a Stamp 4;
- Explicit permission from the Department of Justice and Equality to remain resident and employed in the State and who is the holder of a Stamp 4;
- Permission to be in the State as a registered student who is permitted to work 20 hours during term time and 40 hours during holiday periods and who is the holder of a Stamp 2 or Stamp 1G; or
- Permission to be in the State under the terms of the Diplomatic Relations and Immunities Act 1967 and are assigned to a Mission of a country with whom the Government has entered into a Working Dependents Agreement.
1.9 Are there different types of employment permits?

The Employment Permits Acts provide for nine types of employment permits to be granted each catering for differing scenarios.

Critical Skills Employment Permit is targeted at highly skilled people with the aim of encouraging them to take up permanent residence in Ireland. Occupations which are included on the Critical Skills Occupations List such as ICT professionals, professional engineers and technologists are catered for under this type of employment permit.

Dependant/Partner/Spouse Employment Permit It is no longer a requirement for spouses and de-facto partners of Critical Skills Employment Permit (CSEP) Holders and Researchers under a Hosting Agreement to apply for a Dependant/Partner/Spouse Employment Permit. The Irish Naturalisation and Immigration Service (INIS) will grant eligible spouses and de-facto partners of CSEP holders and Researchers under a Hosting Agreement permission to reside in this State on Stamp 1 Conditions which provides direct access to the labour market without the need to obtain an employment permit.

Intra-Company Transfer Employment Permit is designed to facilitate the transfer of senior management, key personnel or trainees who are foreign nationals from an overseas branch of a multinational corporation to its Irish branch. The Intra-Company Transfer Employment Permit can be invaluable in the initial establishment of a foreign direct investment company. This employment permit facilitates the temporary placement of corporate or HQ personnel in the Irish affiliate while providing for such employees to stay on the foreign payroll.

General Employment Permit is an employment permit which permits the holder to be employed in the State in a broad range of occupations. Unlike Critical Skills Employment Permits, where eligible occupations are specified, General Employment Permits assume all occupations are eligible unless otherwise specified. Therefore, all occupations are eligible unless excluded under the list of Ineligible List of Occupations for Employment Permits. All occupations on the Critical Skills Occupations List are deemed eligible.

Contract for Services Employment Permit is designed for situations where a foreign undertaking (contractor) has won a contract to provide services to an Irish company (relevant person) on a contract for services basis and to facilitate the transfer of their non-EEA employees to work on the Irish contract in Ireland.

Reactivation Employment Permit is designed to permit a non-EEA national who once held on a valid employment permit but who fell out of the system through no fault of their own or who has been badly treated or exploited in the workplace, to work legally again.

Internship Employment Permit is designed to facilitate the employment in the State of non-EEA nationals who are full-time students, studying in a discipline relevant to the occupations included on the Critical Skills Occupations List and enrolled at a third level institution outside the State, for the purposes of gaining work experience.
Sport and Cultural Employment Permit cater for employment permits in the sporting and cultural area. This permit is designed to facilitate the employment in the State of non-EEA nationals with the relevant qualifications, skills, experience or knowledge for the development, operation and capacity of sporting and cultural activities.

Exchange Agreement Employment Permit is designed to facilitate the employment in the State of non-EEA nationals pursuant to prescribed agreements or other international agreements to which the State is a party.

Such agreements are prescribed in the Employment Permits Regulations.

1.10 Are all jobs eligible for employment permits?

All applications for employment permits are processed in line with the Employment Permits Acts and the State’s employment permit system is ordered by the use of occupation lists which determine which employments are highly demanded and which are ineligible for consideration for employment permits at a point in time.

The lists currently applying are:

- The Critical Skills Occupations List for which special “fast-track” rules apply (e.g. can work without an employment permit after two years, family can join the permit holder immediately). Occupations on the highly skilled include professional positions in medicine, ICT, sciences, finance and business.

- The Ineligible List of Occupations which are largely but not exclusively lower skilled occupations. There is evidence that there are no labour shortages from within Ireland/EEA to fill such vacancies. Therefore, these occupations are not eligible for an employment permit.

- Every other job in the labour market, where an employer cannot find a worker, may be eligible for an employment permit. The employer has to do a Labour Market Needs Test (i.e. advertise the job as per Employment Permits legislation) to see if there is anyone in the State/EEA who could do the job. If no-one suitable applies for the job, the employer is free to apply for an employment permit.

These lists are reviewed on a bi-annual basis.
1.11 I am a non-EEA national married to an EEA national. Do I need to apply for an employment permit?

If you are a non-EEA national married to, or in a civil partnership with, an EEA national and both you and your spouse or partner are residing in Ireland, you should contact the Department of Justice and Equality in order to seek residency in the State on that basis. If you receive Stamp 4 immigration permission, you will not require an employment permit to work in Ireland.

If you are a non-EEA national who is married to, or in a civil partnership with, an EEA national and you wish to work in Ireland, but your spouse or partner will not be accompanying you in Ireland, you will require an employment permit. You will have to satisfy the normal eligibility criteria for the type of permit being applied for. However, a fee will not be payable in the case of such employment permit application.

Further information on the policy in relation to non-EEA nationals married to, or in a civil partnership with an EEA national is available on the Department’s website at Married/Civil Partner.

1.12 I am a non-EEA national in a de facto (non-marital) relationship with an EEA national. Do I need to apply for an employment permit?

The recognition and determination of de facto (non-marital) relationships is a matter in the first instance for the Department of Justice and Equality - Irish Naturalisation and Immigration Service (INIS). Further information can be found on the INIS website.

Depending on the immigration permission granted you may require an employment permit to work in the State. Further information on the policy in relation to non-EEA nationals in a de facto (non-marital) relationship with an EEA national is available on this Department’s website at De Facto Relationships.
1.13 I am a Stamp 3 holder who is a Dependant or Partner or Spouse of a Critical Skills Employment Permit holder, am I allowed to work?

Since 6th March 2019, the requirement for spouses and de-facto partners of Critical Employment Permit (CSEP) Holders and Researchers under a Hosting Agreement as provided for under the EU Third Country Researchers Directive (Council Directive 2005/71/EC) to obtain an employment permit has been removed by the Department of Business, Enterprise and Innovation (DBEI).

The Irish Naturalisation and Immigration Service (INIS) will grant eligible spouses and de-facto partners of CSEP holders and Researchers under a Hosting Agreement permission to reside in this State on Stamp 1 Conditions which provides direct access to the labour market without the need to obtain an employment permit.

For more information, please go to the INIS Website where further information can be found on INIS FAQs.

1.14 I am the holder of a Working Holiday Authorisation, am I allowed to apply for an employment permit?

Holders of a Working Holiday Authorisation (WHA), as per the terms and conditions of their WHA, must leave the State on expiry of the WHA and cannot apply for an employment permit whilst in the State. The foreign national may consider submitting an application for an employment permit from outside the State, upon expiration or cancellation of their WHA, and on foot of an eligible job offer, which will be considered subject to the usual criteria applying under the Employment Permits Acts and Regulations.

1.15 Where can I get a copy of the employment permits legislation?

Links to all the Employment Permits Acts and Regulations are available on the Department’s website at Legislation.

If you feel that your employment permit application should not have been refused, you can request a review of that decision.

The request for a review of the decision to refuse an application for an employment permit must be submitted using the prescribed form giving the reasons for the review request and providing any additional supplementary documentation.

It should be noted that for all employment permit type applications, the minimum annual remuneration, the additional documentary evidence, the critical skills occupations list, the ineligible list of occupations and where necessary the requirement to advertise the occupation, are all laid down in regulations made under the Employment Permits Legislation and as such the Minister has no discretion in this regard.

3.2 Is there a statutory time limit to submit a request for a review?

Yes, the Employment Permit Legislation provides that a request for a review must be submitted within 28 calendar days from the date of the notification of the refusal decision (date specified on the refusal letter).
3.3 Who should sign the review form?

It is very important that the review form is signed by the correct party.

The Employment Permit Legislation specify that only the applicant may request a review of a refusal decision. This can be the employer or the employee but must be the name of the applicant as indicated on the initial employment permit application form.

If an authorised agent was named on the initial application, they may sign the review form. An authorised agent engaged after the initial application is also permitted to sign the review form so long as letters of authorisation signed by both the employer and the employee are provided.

Review forms signed by an incorrect party will be returned and there is no extension of the 28-day time limit.

3.4 What are the most common examples of refusal reasons that cannot be rectified at review stage?

3.4.1 Labour Market Needs Test (see Section 5.4 for more details)

The Labour Market Needs Test provides for the advertising of the position on offer through a number of different media.

The required advertising with the Department of Employment Affairs and Social Protection/EURES employment network must be done during the 90-day period prior to submission of the initial application for an employment permit. If this advertising has not been done during this time period prior to the initial employment permit application or has not been done in accordance with the Employment Permit Regulations, it is not possible to address this refusal reason at review stage.

Newspaper and website advertisements must be carried out prior to submission of the initial employment permit application and must be in the format and for the time period outlined in the Employment Permit Regulations. If this advertising has not been done prior to the initial employment permit application in accordance with the Employment Permit Regulations, it is not possible to address this refusal reason at review stage.
3.4.2 Remuneration and job title
The Employment Permit Legislation state that the remuneration and the job title for the position must be included in the application for an employment permit. The minimum remuneration requirements for all employment permit types are laid out in the Employment Permit Regulations and where an annual minimum remuneration is specified this is based on working 39 hours per week over 52 weeks – see section 5.5.

In the event where a request for a review of a refusal decision is based on the ineligibility of the job title or on the level of remuneration being paid, this can only be considered if a credible explanation as to why information in the initial employment permit application was incorrect or unclear.

3.4.3 Immigration Status
Please note that it is the immigration status on the date of the initial employment permit application that is considered at review stage.

3.4.4 50/50 Rule (see Section 5.2 for more details)
Please note that it is the ratio of EEA employees to non-EEA employees on the date of the initial employment permit application that is considered at review stage.

3.5 What can be done if an employment permit application has been refused and/or it is not possible to address the refusal grounds by way of a request for review?

If an employment permit application has been refused, it is open to the applicant to submit a new employment permit application following all of the relevant procedures and legislative requirements for the particular employment permit type.

3.6 Can a new employment permit application be submitted when a request for review of another application for the same foreign national is pending?

No, the position is that an applicant for an employment permit can only have one live employment permit application at any one time. If a request for a review of a refusal decision has been submitted and the applicant wishes to submit in a new employment permit application, then the request for the review must be withdrawn by the applicant before the new application can be submitted.
3.7 I do not wish to request a review of the decision and would like my fees to be refunded?

If an applicant does not want to request a review of a refusal decision, they must submit the completed mandate form to our offices so that the refund can be processed. Copies of mandate forms are included with all refusal letters sent to applicants.

Generally, it takes approximately 4 weeks from the time we receive the fully completed mandate form for the refunds to reach the applicants bank account.

3.8 I have submitted a request for a review but have decided that I would prefer to receive a refund instead?

The applicant should complete and submit the Electronic Funds Transfer Mandate Form together with a statement indicating that the applicant wishes to withdraw the request for review.

4. Trusted Partners

This section provides information on the most frequently asked questions which apply to Trusted Partners. The documentary requirements for Trusted Partner Registration are laid out in section 8.1.

4.1 What is a Trusted Partner?

Under the Trusted Partner Initiative an employer may apply to this Department for Trusted Partner status. The objective of the initiative is to ease the administrative burden on employers and to remove the requirement that they replicate the same employer information in respect of each employment permit application made. There is no fee required to apply for Trusted Partner status.

The benefits of being a Trusted Partner are:

- Fast turnaround of Trusted Partner registration applications.
- Reduced paperwork for every employment permit applied for under the scheme.
- Shortened employment permit application forms.
- Faster turnaround of Trusted Partner employment permit applications.
- Status valid for 2 years.

Full details of the initiative can be found on the Department’s website at Trusted Partner Initiative.
4.2 Should I apply to become a Trusted Partner?

The Trusted Partner Initiative is aimed at regular users of the employment permit system, or those who expect to become regular users of the employment permits system. If an applicant can demonstrate that they anticipate upcoming expansion to business and an increase to their workforce, these factors will be taken into account when considering an application. It would be beneficial to include details on the company’s future requirements and support provided by an enterprise development agency will also be taken into account.

The Trusted Partner Initiative may not be applicable in cases where an applicant is a sole trader or for example, where it appears, they may have a minimal requirement for employment permits.

4.3 How do I apply to become a Trusted Partner?

Applications for Trusted Partner can be made online via the Employment Permits Online System which can be accessed at EPOS.

Once the soft copy application is submitted, the original hard copy with the original authorised signatures must be forwarded to Employment Permits Section within 10 working days. The application form for Trusted Partner registration must be signed by the Company Secretary (this is especially applicable to Limited Companies), the Person of Compliance or Person of Process or the business owner.

Once all of the relevant information has been provided and any queries responded to, your application will be considered within a few days.
5. Employment Permit Policies
This section provides information on employment permit policies which apply to most employment permit types.

5.1 I am a current employment permit holder – can I change employer?

Normally there is no restriction on a current employment permit holder changing employer after 12 months.
A new employment permit is required prior to commencement of employment with the new employer.

The Employment Permits Acts provide that the Minister may refuse to grant a new employment permit if a foreign national has not completed 12 months employment with their employer on foot of their first employment permit in the State. This is more commonly known as the “12-month rule”.

This refusal reason attempts to strike a reasonable balance between, on the one hand, the employer’s expectations that the foreign national remain in his or her employment for a reasonable period of time given the costs involved in recruiting that foreign national and, on the other hand, not unduly binding the foreign national to the employer.

The Minister may consider new applications within the 12-month period in certain circumstances as follows:

• redundancy, or
• where circumstances (unforeseen at time of application) arise in the employment that fundamentally change the employment relationship (e.g. your employer plans to change the location of the business to a site a significant distance from its current location, or the hours that you work are being significantly changed, or significant changes are being made to the nature of the work that you are required to do).

If you feel you satisfy the criteria in this regard you may submit in a new employment permit application following all of the procedures for the relevant employment permit type and it will be considered in line with the provisions of the Employment Permits Acts. All such applications should include documentary evidence and/or supporting documentation explaining the circumstances in your case (e.g. P45, letter from your current employer confirming redundancy/change in employment terms etc).
5.2 I am an employer who currently has no employees – can I apply for an employment permit?

The Employment Permits Acts prohibit the issue of an employment permit, irrespective of applicant, unless at time of application 50% or more of the employees of the employer, the Irish branch of the foreign employer and either the contractor or the Irish client of the contractor are EEA nationals. This is more commonly known as the “50/50 rule”.

Given that the employment permits system is to facilitate employers to obtain the skills they require to grow their business it is expected that, other than in the exceptions listed below, the employer, the Irish branch of the foreign employer and either the contractor or the Irish client of the contractor are already active employers in their own right, have current employees and are operating substantive businesses.

In cases where there are currently no employees, employment permits can only be granted in respect of the following exceptions:

Applications for Critical Skills, General or Intra-Company Transfer Employment Permits in respect of a start-up company within 2 years of its establishment (i.e. registered as an employer with the Revenue Commissioners) which are clients companies of Enterprise Ireland or IDA Ireland and which are accompanied by a letter of support from Enterprise Ireland or IDA Ireland confirming that the start-up company will contribute to the further development of employment in the State.

• Applications for Dependant/Partner/Spouse, General, Reactivation or Sport and Cultural Employment Permits where on the day on which the application is made the employer has no employees and the foreign national will be the only employee of the employer and will continue to be the only employee (e.g. eligible carer in a private home).

5.3 I am an employment agency – can I apply for an employment permit?

Under the Employment Permits Acts applications for employment permits cannot be considered from employment agencies where it transpires that the foreign national is to be assigned to work for, and under the direction and supervision of, a person other than the employment agency. Therefore, an employment agency is precluded from applying for an employment permit for this category of employee as they are not considered to be the employer of the foreign national. However, the employer where the foreign national is working can apply for the employment permit.

Applications for employment permits can only be considered where the foreign national is to be employed directly by the employment agency itself.

Further information on the policy around applications for employment permits from Employment Agencies can be found on the Department’s website at Employment Agencies.
5.4 What is the Labour Market Needs Test?

The Labour Market Needs Test is to ensure that the employer has made every effort to recruit an Irish/EEA national for the employment concerned and an application cannot be submitted until all of the requirements of the Labour Market Needs Test have been completed.

Employers applying for a General Employment Permit or a Contract for Services Employment Permit must satisfy a Labour Market Needs Test, unless exempted, before a General Employment Permit or a Contract for Service Employment Permit application can be made.

The Labour Market Needs Test is not required:

- Where the job is an occupation included on the Critical Skills Occupations List
- Where the job offer is in respect of an eligible employment with a minimum annual remuneration of €60,000. Employment permits cannot be issued in respect of employments, irrespective of remuneration, on the Ineligible List of Occupations
- Where a recommendation from Enterprise Ireland or IDA Ireland has been made in relation to the job offer and specifically states that the Labour Market Needs Test is waived (this applies to client companies of Enterprise Ireland or IDA Ireland only)
- Where the job offer is for a Carer of a person with exceptional medical needs and the non-EEA national has been providing care to the person before the application was made and that person has developed a high level of dependence on that non-EEA national
- In the case of a General Employment Permit application, where the job is offered to a non-EEA national who is the holder of a General Employment Permit and who was made redundant within the previous 6 months.

Under the Employment Permits Acts the Labour Market Needs Test requires all of the following actions prior to the submission of the application:

- The employer must advertise the vacancy with the Department of Employment Affairs and Social Protection Employment Services/EURES employment network for at least 2 weeks, and
- in a national newspaper for at least 3 days, and also
- in either a local newspaper or jobs website (separate to Department of Employment Affairs and Social Protection/EURES websites) for 3 days.
In line with regulations made under the Employment Permits Acts the vacancy must include the following information:

- a description of the employment
- the name of the employer
- the minimum annual remuneration
- the location/s of employment, and
- the hours of work.

Copies of all advertisements must be included with the application. The advertisement placed in a national and local newspaper should show the dates the advertisements were placed.

An application for an employment permit can only be submitted when the Labour Market Needs Test has been completed and the application must be submitted within 90 days of the commencement of the advertisement with the Department of Employment Affairs and Social Protection Employment Services/EURES employment network.

5.5 Is there a minimum remuneration per week required for the grant of an employment permit?

Yes, the minimum remuneration requirement for each employment permit type is laid down in regulations made under the Employment Permits Acts.

The legislation provides that where a minimum annual remuneration is prescribed for an employment permit type this is based on working 52 weeks at 39 hours each week and the applicable hourly rate e.g. €30,000 ÷ 52 ÷ 39 = €14.79.

The legislation also provides that:

If the foreign national is working less than 39 hours (cannot work below 20 hours – except in the case of a Dependant/Partner/Spouse Employment Permit) then the hourly rate of remuneration must be increased pro-rata so that they are still being paid the required minimum annual remuneration for a 39-hour week.

- e.g. a foreign national who is working a 35-hour week must still be paid a minimum annual remuneration of €30,000. Therefore, their hourly rate must be increased as follows - €30,000 ÷ 52 ÷ 35 = €16.48.

If the foreign national is working more than 39 hours then the remuneration must be increased pro rata by the applicable prescribed hourly rate.
e.g. a foreign national who is working a 40-hour week must be paid in excess of the minimum annual remuneration of €30,000. Therefore, their minimum annual remuneration must be increased as follows - €14.79 x 40 x 52 = €30,763.

5.6 Is there a minimum number of hours of work per week required for the grant of an employment permit?

Regulations made under the Employment Permits Acts provide that the minimum number of hours that can be worked each week on foot of all employment permit types is 20 hours (10 hours for a Dependant/Partner/Spouse Employment Permit) but on condition that the required level of the prescribed annual remuneration is still being paid – see section 5.5.

5.7 What employments are eligible for an employment permit?

All applications for employment permits are processed in line with the Employment Permits Acts and the State’s employment permit system is ordered by the use of occupation lists which determine which employments are highly demanded and which are ineligible for consideration for employment permits at a point in time.

The lists currently applying are:

- The Critical Skills Occupations List for which special “fast-track” rules apply (e.g. family can join the permit holder immediately, permanent residency in available after two years). Occupations on the highly skilled include professional positions in medicine, ICT, sciences, finance and business.

- Every other job in the labour market, other than those included on the Ineligible List of Occupations, where an employer cannot find a worker, may be eligible for an employment permit. The employer has to do a Labour Market Needs Test (i.e. advertise the job for two weeks) to see if there is anyone in the State/EEA who could do the job. If no-one suitable applies for the job, the employer is free to apply for an employment permit.

5.8 What employments are ineligible for an employment permit?

All applications for employment permits are processed in line with the Employment Permits Acts and the State’s employment permit system is ordered by the use of occupation lists which determine which employments are highly demanded and which are ineligible for consideration for employment permits at a point in time.

The Ineligible List of Occupations which currently applies includes occupations which are largely but not exclusively lower skilled occupations. There is evidence that there are no labour shortages from within Ireland/EEA to fill such vacancies. Therefore, no-one is eligible to get an employment permit if they are applying for such jobs.

This list applies to all applicants for Critical Skills Employment Permits, General Employment Permits, Intra-Company Transfer Employment Permits, Contract for Services Employment Permits and Sport and Cultural Employment Permits.

In relation to Dependant/Partner/Spouse and Reactivation Employment Permits all occupations are eligible even those on the ineligible list of occupations other than those in a domestic setting with the exception of specific carers – see Section 6.3.

5.9 What jobs in a domestic setting are eligible for an employment permit?

Generally, employment permits cannot be granted to allow non-EEA nationals work in any occupation in a private home as these occupations are all included on the Ineligible List of Occupations for Employment Permits.

The regulations do provide for an exception to be made for an application for employment as a Carer in a private home where:

- the person who requires the care has a severe medical condition and the prospective carer is a trained medical professional (a medical practitioner or a registered nurse), or
- it can be demonstrated that the applicant has a long history of caring for the person requiring the care.

Further information on the other criteria and documentary requirements can be found on the Department’s website at Carers in Private Homes.
5.10 My employer wants me to work at a different location to that specified on my employment permit – is this allowed?

All employment permits are employer and location specific (place(s) at which employment concerned is being carried out) and the foreign national can only work for the employer and at the location(s) specified on the employment permit.

If the foreign national is going to be working at a different location to that which is stated on their employment permit, then the Employment Permits Section must be notified to determine whether a new employment permit is required.

5.11 The employer named on the employment permit is moving to a new location – is there anything we should do?

All employment permits are employer and location specific (place(s) at which employment concerned is being carried out) and the foreign national can only work for the employer and at the location(s) specified on the employment permit.

In the event that a company's premises has changed but there is no change in their Employer’s CRO and Revenue Registered Numbers then the company should submit the following:

- Letter on company’s headed paper notifying the Department of the premises change (in the case of Trusted Partner Employer's this letter must be signed by the contact person in the company nominated as part of their Trusted Partner Registration)

Evidence from the CRO of the company’s address change, and

- Evidence from the Office of the Revenue Commissioners of the address change i.e. recent returns made to Revenue or a letter from Revenue.

On receipt and assuming everything is in order, the Employment Permits Section will notify the company when they have up-dated the company’s records.

Once the company has been notified that our records have been changed current holders of employment permits can continue working on their current permits until renewal stage when the new company address will be amended.
5.12 There has been a change to the name of the employer on the employment permit – is there anything I should do?

All employment permits are employer specific and the non-EEA national can only work for the employer and in the employment specified on the employment permit.

In the event that a company's name has changed but there is no change in their Employer's Registered Number with the Revenue Commissioners then the company should submit the following:

- Letter on new company’s headed paper notifying the Department of the name change (in the case of Trusted Partner Employer’s this letter must be signed by the contact person in the company nominated as part of their Trusted Partner Registration)
- Evidence from the CRO of the company’s name change, and
- Evidence from the Office of the Revenue Commissioners of the name change i.e. recently completed statutory returns or a letter from Revenue.

On receipt and assuming everything is in order, the Employment Permits Section will notify the company when they have up-dated the company’s records.

Once the company has been notified that our records have been changed current holders of employment permits can continue working on their current permits until renewal stage when the new company name will be amended.

5.13 I urgently require the employment permit – can my application be expedited?

To be fair to all applicants, generally applications for employment permits, requests for reviews and requests for Stamp 4 support letters are processed in order of date of receipt.

Applicants can keep track of our processing dates on our website at Processing Dates.
5.14 I am currently resident in the State as the holder of a Hosting Agreement – can I apply for an employment permit?

Foreign nationals’ resident in the State who are holders of Hosting Agreements (Scheme for admission of Third Country Researchers to Ireland) may apply for an employment permit if they secure an eligible job offer.

Should the issue of an employment permit be approved, the holder of the Hosting Agreement will be advised that before the employment permit will be issued it will be a requirement for them to cancel the Hosting Agreement and notify the Department of same.

Employment permits cannot be issued until the Hosting Agreement is cancelled or, alternatively, if the Hosting Agreement has less than 3 months expiry left, then the start date of the employment permit can be requested for the day after the expiry date of the Hosting Agreement.

5.15 I am currently resident in the State as a visitor or a student - can I apply for an employment permit?

It is the policy that all first-time applicants for employment permits should normally make their application while resident outside the State. However, non-EEA citizens with a valid Certificate of Registration (GNIB Card) and who are holders of Stamps 1, 1A, 2, 2A and 3 immigration permissions and who have been offered employment in an eligible occupation, are allowed to apply for an employment permit following all of the legislative procedures whilst already legally resident in the State.

In this instance, if an application for an employment permit is successful and on receipt of the employment permit, the persons concerned must register their change of status with the Garda National Immigration Bureau (GNIB).
5.16 What is the position in relation to holders of a Stamp 4?

5.16.1 I am currently resident in the State as the holder of a Stamp 4/EUFAM Stamp 4 - can I apply for an employment permit?
Non-EEA nationals who are resident in the State as the holders of a current Stamp 4/EUFAM Stamp 4 do not come within the provisions of the Employment Permits Acts and do not require an employment permit to work in the State.

5.16.2 I am resident in the State as the holder of a Stamp 4/EUFAM Stamp 4 but my circumstances have changed - can I apply for an employment permit?
You must hold a valid certificate of Registration (GNIB card) or Irish Residence Permit (IRP) with permission on stamp 1, 1A, 2A or 3 to submit an employment permit application.
If you are the holder of an EUFAM Stamp 4 permission as the non-EEA family member of an EU national and your circumstances have changed, for example, there has been a breakdown in the family relationship or the EU citizen no longer lives and works in Ireland, you must contact the Irish Naturalisation and Immigration Service (INIS) at eutreatyrights@justice.ie within 7 days to advise them of the change.

5.17 Do I need a passport of a specific duration to apply for an employment permit?

The documentary requirements for all employment permits are laid out in regulations made under the Employment Permits Acts.
Under these regulations all applications for employment permits must be accompanied by:

New Employment Permit applications

- clear copies of the relevant pages of the foreign national’s passport clearly showing his or her photograph, personal details and his or her signature. The passport must have an expiry date of 6 months or more after the date of application.

Renewal Employment Permit applications

clear copies of the relevant pages of the foreign national’s passport clearly showing his or her photograph, personal details and his or her signature. The passport must have an expiry date of 3 months or more after the date of application.

As these requirements are laid out in regulations the Minister has no discretion in this regard.
5.18 Do I have to be registered with a regulatory body for specific employments e.g. Association of Chartered Certified Accountants (ACCA), Irish Medical Council (IMC), Nursing and Midwifery Board of Ireland (NMBI)?

The Employment Permits Acts and associated regulations lay down the criteria in relation to the application, grant and refusal of employment permits. The Act provides that for certain employments an employment permit cannot be granted unless the foreign national concerned is registered with or has their qualifications recognised by an appropriate regulatory body.

The employments and the relevant regulatory bodies applicable are available on the Department website at Employment and Regulatory Bodies.

5.19 I have lost the original of my employment permit – what can I do?

An employment permit is a valuable document and all employment permits are printed on high level security paper and must be kept secure at all times. In the event that the original of an employment permit is mislaid for some reason then the following steps must be taken before a replacement employment permit can be made.

- The applicant must notify the Department that the original of the employment permit has been mislaid or never received and request a Statement of Loss form which they must complete and have stamped by An Garda Síochána.

- Once the Department receives this completed and stamped form, it will be kept on file for 4 weeks as in some cases the original of the employment permit may be located in this period.

- If at the end of 4 weeks the original of the employment permit hasn’t been located the employer/employee must confirm same by letter.

Assuming everything is in order the Department will re-issue a replacement employment permit.
5.20 The permit holder has transferred over to a new employer as part of a transfer of undertakings – what do I need to produce?

The Employment Permits Acts provide that an employer on an employment permit can be changed only in circumstances where a transfer of employment has taken place under the European Communities (Protection of Employees on Transfer of Undertakings) Regulations 2003 (S.I. No. 131 of 2003).

If the employer change is as a result of such transfer of undertaking the original employer must complete the prescribed Transfer of Undertaking form and send it with the required supporting documentation to the Department.

The prescribed form is available on the Department’s website at Employer Name Change Form.

When the change of employer follows a transfer of undertaking, and it is confirmed that the terms, conditions, description and location/s of employment as specified on the existing employment permit remain the same, the Department will issue a new employment permit to the permit holder and a certified copy to the new employer.

5.21 I have been made redundant by my employer – what should I do?

The policy regarding permit holders who are made redundant is laid out in the Employment Permits Acts and associated regulations.

Holders of Critical Skills or General Employment Permits

Holders of such employment permits must notify the Employment Permits Section of the Department within four weeks of the date the employment ceases as the result of a redundancy on the prescribed Redundancy Notification form. An employment permit holder has up to six months from the date on which their employment ceases to find another job.

The prescribed form is available on the Department’s website at Notification of Dismissal by Redundancy.

If you find another job and provided you have submitted the prescribed Redundancy Notification form within four weeks of employment ceasing, the application will be exempted from certain rules that would otherwise apply, i.e. Labour Market Needs Test (Job Advertisement) – section 5.4.

If you are in an occupation which is now ineligible for the type of employment permit held, an employment permit application will still be considered for the same employment permit type.

If you are unsuccessful in finding another job within six months of being made redundant you should contact the Irish Naturalisation and Immigration Service (INIS) to establish your immigration status beyond that period.
Holders of Dependant/Partner/Spouse, Reactivation and Sport and Cultural Employment Permits

If you are made redundant while you are a holder of this employment permit type, you should notify the Employment Permits Section of the Department within 4 weeks of the date your employment ceases as the result of the redundancy and return the original and certified copy of the employment permit. You have up to six months from the date on which you were made redundant to find another job and apply for a new employment permit subject to normal conditions and criteria.

If you cannot find another job within six months of being made redundant you should contact the Irish Naturalisation and Immigration Service (INIS) to establish your immigration status beyond that period.

5.22 What is a recommendation from an Enterprise Development Agency?

Under the Employment Permits Acts the Minister may waive some of the requirements in respect of an application for an employment permit where the application is recommended by an Enterprise Development Agency. The Act defines these agencies as IDA Ireland and Enterprise Ireland. Requirements that may be waived include:

- 50:50 Rule exemption (see section 5.2) - within 2 years of start-up (date of registration as an employer with the Office of the Revenue Commissioners).

- Labour Market Needs Test for General Employment Permits. Reduced remuneration requirement for a General Employment Permit for specific employments:
  - Call centre €27,000 (with a non-EEA language requirement)
    - Customer Service and sales role
    - Specialist online digital marketing and sales role
    - Specialist language support and technical sales support roles.

- Allows for the waiver of certain ineligible employments where there is a non-EEA language requirement i.e. bookkeepers, payroll managers, wage clerks.

It should be noted that the issue of such letters is entirely a matter for IDA Ireland and Enterprise Ireland and they only provide such letters of support for their client companies and only in cases where the entity feels it is appropriate and will lead to the further creation of employment in the State.
5.23 What is the GNIB number?

The GNIB Pin No. is the foreign national’s registration number with the Garda National Immigration Bureau (GNIB) and is printed on the foreign national’s Garda National Immigration Bureau (GNIB) card.

5.24 Can I apply for an unlimited employment permit?

An unlimited employment permit is an employment permit which is issued for an unlimited duration. It can only be considered when renewing a General, Reactivation or Sport and Cultural Employment Permit and only applies if the foreign national has been in continuous employment with the employer named on the existing employment permit for a period of 5 years or more.

5.25 What is the Atypical Working Scheme?

The Department of Justice and Equality (Irish Naturalisation and Immigration Service - INIS) in agreement with this Department administers the Atypical Working Scheme. The purpose of the Scheme is to provide a streamlined mechanism to deal with atypical, short term employment or certain other employment situations which are not governed by the Employment Permits Acts or by current administrative procedures under the Employment Permits Acts.

Full information on the scheme can be found at Atypical Working Scheme.

6. Policies for Specific Employments

This section provides information on policies which apply to specific employments.

6.1 Can I apply for an employment permit for an Accountant?

Applications for employment permits in respect of Accountants can only be considered where it transpires that the foreign national is a fully registered member of, or has their qualifications recognised by the appropriate Regulatory Body. Part C of Schedule 2 of the Employment Permits Regulations sets out in legislation the appropriate Regulatory Bodies for Accountants. The names of such bodies can be found on the Department’s website at Registration Bodies for Certain Employments.
6.2 Can I apply for an employment permit for a Meat Deboner?

There is currently a quota of 300 General Employment Permits eligible for consideration. The normal criteria for a General Employment Permit for this occupation applies, with the exception of the minimum annual remuneration which is €27,500 for this category of employment.

Applicants should note that:

- Applicants must include proof that a Labour Market Needs Test has been carried out, except where this requirement has been waived. Information on the process involved is set out on the Labour Market Needs Test.
- Applications will be processed strictly in date order.

Further information on the remuneration and other criteria applying can be found on the Department’s website at Meat Deboners.

6.3 Can I apply for an employment permit for a Carer in a private home?

Generally, employment permits are not granted to allow non-EEA nationals to work as Carers, as this occupation is included on the Ineligible List of Occupations.

The regulations do however allow for an exception to be made for an application for employment as a Carer in a private home where:

- the person who requires the care has a severe medical condition and the prospective carer is a trained medical professional (a medical practitioner or a registered nurse), or
- it can be demonstrated that the applicant has a long history of caring for the person requiring the care.

Further information on the other criteria and documentary requirements can be found on the Department’s website at Carers in Private Homes.
6.4 How are employment permits processed for Nurses who have to undergo clinical adaptation or RCSI examinations?

Non-EEA nurses who have to undergo clinical adaptation employment placements or RCSI examinations in the State are facilitated under the Department of Justice and Equality’s Atypical Working Scheme – see section 5.25. When the nurse has completed their adaptation or examination and has acquired full registration as a nurse with the Nursing and Midwifery Board of Ireland (NMBI) they should then apply for an employment permit. The type of employment permit they can apply for depends on the level of their educational qualifications – see section 37.1.2.

Further information on nurses undergoing adaptation and their subsequent application for an employment permit can be found on our Department’s website at Nurses.

6.5 Will employment permits for Chefs be considered?

From 26th March 2018, a quota of 610 General Employment Permits was opened for certain categories of chefs:

- Executive Chef with minimum of 5 years’ experience
- Head Chef with minimum of 5 years’ experience
- Sous Chef with minimum of 5 years’ experience
- Chef de Partie with minimum of 2 years’ experience

It should be noted that a maximum number of two such employment permits only can be granted per establishment. All other categories of chef currently remain ineligible.

7. Policies for Specific Employment Permit Types

7.1 Critical Skills Employment Permit

This section provides information on the most frequently asked questions which apply to Critical Skills Employment Permits. The documentary requirements for Critical Skills Employment Permits are laid out in section 8.2.

7.1.1 Am I eligible to apply for a Critical Skills Employment Permit?

The Critical Skills Employment Permit is designed to attract highly skilled people into the labour market with the aim of encouraging them to take up permanent residence in the State. Eligible occupations under this type of permit are deemed to be critically important to growing Ireland’s economy, are highly demanded and highly skilled, and in significant shortage of supply in our labour market.

For this employment permit type foreign nationals must:

• be the holder of a Degree level qualification or higher in the relevant field if the remuneration on offer is between €30,000 and €59,999.

• In cases where remuneration is €60,000 or higher the foreign national can be either the holder of a Degree level qualification or higher in the relevant field or have the necessary level of experience for the role.
The job offer must be 2 years or more duration.

The list of occupations eligible for this employment permit type are laid down in regulations made under the Employment Permits Acts and are defined as follows:

- If the minimum annual remuneration on offer is €30,000 or more the job offer must be in respect of one of the employments listed on the Critical Skills Occupations List, or
- If the annual remuneration on offer is €60,000 or more the job offer can be in respect of any employment other than an employment listed on the Ineligible List of Occupations.

Full information on the remuneration and other criteria applying to this employment permit type can be found on our website at Critical Skills Employment Permit.

7.1.2 How do I know if my qualification is equivalent to an Irish degree?
The eligibility criteria for a Critical Skills Employment Permit include a requirement that the prospective permit holder must hold:

- a third level degree relevant to the employment concerned if the annual remuneration on offer is €30,000 or more, or
- a third level degree relevant to the employment concerned or necessary experience if the annual remuneration on offer is €60,000 or more.

Qualification levels in Ireland are determined by QQI (Quality and Qualifications Ireland) and that body is the appropriate authority to confirm whether the level of a qualification achieves the NFQ level 7 or above (ISCED level 6 or above) which is required for Critical Skills Employment Permit eligibility.

Information on the recognition of foreign qualifications can be found at NARIC Website. If you feel that your qualifications are equivalent to an NFQ level 7 qualification (ISCED level 6 or above), confirmation from the QQI of the equivalence of your qualifications must be provided.

Foreign nationals who are the holders of diplomas which equate to level 6 on the NFQ are not eligible for a Critical Skills Employment Permit but may apply for a General Employment Permit.

7.1.3 What do I do when my Critical Skills Employment Permit is due to expire?
One of the benefits of a Critical Skills Employment Permit is that holders whose employment permit and immigration registration cards are due to expire will not be required to apply for a renewal permit through this Department. Critical Skills Employment Permit holders can apply for a Support Letter from this Department to present to the Garda National Immigration Bureau (GNIB) in their application for a Stamp 4. If you are successful in securing a Stamp 4 then you will no longer require an employment permit to be employed in the State.
Foreign nationals are eligible to apply for their Support Letters from this Department only when they have completed a minimum of 21 months continuous employment in the State on foot of their Critical Skills Employment Permit. Applications can be submitted up to 12 weeks before the expiry date, requests received more than 12 weeks before permit expiry date, may be returned to the applicant. The request should be made on the form which is available on our website at Request for Stamp 4 Support Letter.

Before making an application we would advise applicants to familiarise themselves with the application requirements which are available on our website at Important Notice for Critical Skills & Green Card Holders.

Please note that the Stamp 4 approval letter issued from this Department does not automatically entitle the foreign national to Stamp 4 permission as this decision is entirely a matter for the Minister for Justice and Equality.

It is the responsibility of all foreign nationals to maintain valid immigration permission with the Garda National Immigration Bureau (GNIB). In the event that Critical Skills Employment Permit holders are not eligible for a Stamp 4 and are issued with a Stamp 1, they will continue to require an employment permit in order to work in the State.

7.1.4 Can I apply for a Support Letter for a Stamp 4 if I am on my second Critical Skills Employment Permit?
Yes, you can apply for a Support Letter.

In the case of foreign nationals who have changed employer or have been made redundant during the term of their first Critical Skills Employment Permit, the 21 months of required employment can be calculated on the basis of two Critical Skills Employment Permits once no significant gaps in continuous employment have occurred.

7.1.5 Why would a Support Letter for a Stamp 4 be refused?
Support Letters for a Stamp 4 may be refused in the following circumstances:

• the permit holder has not worked in the State for the duration of their Critical Skills Employment Permit(s) or at the minimum for a continuous period of 21 months

• the permit holder is not working for the employer named on the permit

• It appears from the P60s and/or payslips provided in support of the request that the permit holder was paid less than that specified on their Critical Skills Employment Permit(s)

• It appears from the information provided in support of the request that the permit holder’s job title or role has changed significantly from that specified on their Critical Skills Employment Permit.
7.1.6 My request for a Support Letter for a Stamp 4 has been refused – can I request a review of this decision?

If you wish it is open to you to appeal this decision. If you wish to do so, you should submit an appeal in writing addressed to the Stamp 4 Support Letter Appeals Officer, Employment Permits Section, Department of Business, Enterprise and Innovation, Earlsfort Centre, Lower Hatch Street, Dublin 2, D02 PW01 within 28 days of the date of the refusal letter giving reasons as to why you consider this decision incorrect. In any case, you should note that you may be eligible to apply for another employment permit in line with the legislation.

It is the responsibility of all foreign nationals to maintain valid immigration permission with the Garda National Immigration Bureau (GNIB). In the event that Critical Skills Employment Permit holders are not eligible for a Stamp 4 and are issued with a Stamp 1, they will continue to require an employment permit in order to work in the State.
